Team BC
2009 Canada Summer Games

Message from Ida Chong
Minister of Healthy Living and Sport

On behalf of Premier Campbell and the Province of British Columbia, I'd like to wish Team BC the best of luck competing at the 2009 Canada Summer Games in Prince Edward Island.

Team BC will send a strong contingent of 355 athletes, 73 coaches, three National Artists and 21 mission staff.

The Games provide a proving ground for the Team, for specific sports and for individuals. Each have set goals, have been training hard and will strive for excellence in their chosen sport. The Games are a chance to celebrate both individual triumphs and accomplishments of the team.

The Canada Summer Games is an opportunity for BC's next generation of national athletes to experience an important milestone on their athletic journey. This experience will be heightened since the 2009 Games are the last major multi-sport event in the country prior to the 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games.

Team BC
2009 Canada Summer Games

British Columbia boasts a strong and vibrant sport system. That is due to the dedication of our athletes and their families, the commitment of our Provincial Sport Organizations and Multi Sport Organizations and the support of thousands of people across the province, all of whom recognize the important role that sport, recreation and physical activity play in our lives.

It is our provincial goal to lead the way in North America in healthy living and physical fitness. Every member of Team BC is an exceptional role model, inspiring younger athletes to embrace the beauty of sport and to reach for their dreams.

Congratulations to Team BC – for being wonderful ambassadors for our province – and for demonstrating that the sky really is the limit!

Yours truly,

Club Team/Artistic Affiliation: Unattached

Interests/Hobbies: both writing and listening to music, playing guitar

Personal Coach/Mentor Name (and why?) My coach Mike Murray because he has an incredible gift of observation. Mike also has a tremendous ability to bestow confidence and realism into his athletes. His ability to ignite intensity and passion while harnessing their drive and inner aggression to achieve great things is unlike anything I have ever seen. He can motivate, encourage and elevate an athlete's performance with his presence and can add a light to any situation no matter if it's dark or already bright.

Goals in Sport/Art: In 2005 I was in a car accident which was the beginning of a long chain of related back and sciatic nerve injuries that lasted until the end of 2007 where finally by the first days of 2008 the injury intensified and two disks in my back ruptured and perforated my spinal canal. After my surgery, I was told that I would be lucky to jog without a limp or pain ever again; that my track career will have to be left to recreational at best (after years of rehab) because of the extent and permanent nerve damage I sustained through my entire right leg. Each day I step back on the track is a blessing and a gift to me, not just another day or another run... And as a result my goal in track was born: to do what was said impossible, and become one of the top sprinters in Canada and compete on a world stage.

Goals in these Games: In 2005 I was in a car accident which denied me my first chance at competing at the Canada games, shortly after I had qualified, I would love to redeem what I had lost four years ago.

Gender: F

Height: 185cm

Club Team/Artistic Affiliation: Victoria City Rowing Club, University of Washington

Interests/Hobbies: Rowing, Reading, Biking, Cooking

Personal Coach/Mentor Name (and why?) Susanne Walker-Curry, because she has not only helped me excel in rowing but in life. She coached me in my grade 11 and 12 year of high school at VCRC and has helped me become who I am today. When making life changing and even basic decisions in my life, she is the voice in the back of my head not exactly telling me what to do (she would never do that).. but clearly hinting it.

Personal Best: Stroking the 2nd Varsity eight as a freshman at the University of Washington for the Pac-10, and NCAA championships.

List the languages that you speak fluently: English

Goals in Sport/Art: 2012

Goals in these Games: Gold

Do you have any family members that are professional athletes, artist, or coach? My brother is on the Canadian national team which won the British Henley with the U23 team last summer (2008) and silver at U23's and winning gold in 2006. He has been to the last four

BRAUL, INGRID

Rowing: Athlete

City/Town: Vancouver

Gender: F

Height: 170cm

Club Team/Artistic Affiliation: Burnaby Lake Rowing Club Victoria City Rowing Club

Interests/Hobbies: Sports, gardening, cooking and eating healthy, exploring the BC coast and wilderness, deciding where my future farm and plum tree orchard will be.

Personal Best: Overcoming injury and illness. I injured my back during my second season of rowing. After physio, patience, and two re-injuries, I was finally ready to get back on the water... until I was hit by a serious case of mono. I was sedentary for another five months, after which I started rowing again but got re-injured, which then put me out for an additional seven months. At this point, many people would have given up, but through this entire time I kept thinking about the day I would be able to row again. Finally, in September, I picked up my oars and rowed pain-free for the first time in two years. After five months of slowly getting back into the sport, I began to really train. I managed to actually complete my workouts, pull PBs on the erg, race again, make the Canada Games team, and enjoy rowing more than I ever did. As awful as it was, I am thankful for the past two years from hell. I realized how important rowing is to me, and how valuable an active lifestyle is. Every morning, no matter how wet, cold, or dark it is, I am thankful to be at practice. Every erg test, I am happy to pull. Every race or workout or day, I know my mind and body have no limits. Overcoming injury and illness, keeping my goals in sight, and persevering to where I am now is my personal best.

Goals in Sport/Art: I want to row at the highest level I can but not lose that raw passion for the sport. I have personal goals and a competitive side, but I don't want an obsession with winning and a need to please others to take away my love for rowing. I want to be able to row at 50 and still enjoy myself.

Goals in these Games: To win and have fun!
